

Updated: 05-27-2005 1:02 PM

New Program Helps Find Missing Children

NORTHAMPTON (AP) - The Hampshire County Sheriff's department is launching a new program to help identify and locate missing children. Sheriff Robert Garvey is holding a new conference on Friday to discuss the Children's Identification and Location Database. The system uses iris recognition biometric technology, which can identify a person through the features of their eyes.

©2005 LIN Broadcasting, WWLP-TV. All rights reserved.

<http://www.wwlp.com/news2004/story.html?artID=223792>